Tsunami Hazard Map

This map shows the tsunami hazard zones in and around Orick. Areas shaded yellow are at risk of flooding during a tsunami, including Orick’s coastal areas, Freshwater Lagoon, the mouth of Redwood Creek, the lower portions of Orick and low-lying areas along Highway 101 near the lagoons. Areas shaded green are outside the tsunami hazard zone and considered safe, including higher ground east of Highway 101, most residential neighborhoods on the east side of Orick and upland areas leading into Redwood National and State Parks. No schools are in the hazard zone. If you are in a yellow hazard zone during a tsunami warning, move inland and uphill on foot toward the green safe areas.
